

Interested in being a guest of the MedSales Blueprint Podcast?

Here's what to expect — and why it matters.

MedSales Blueprint's Expert Insights podcast features professionals across healthcare, sales, and industry-adjacent roles. From seasoned medical sales reps and HCPs to professionals who work closely with them, every guest brings a unique voice that contributes to something bigger than any one career: helping the next generation break in and succeed.

Each conversation is recorded virtually for your convenience and may be used as part of our growing library of educational resources, training clips, or public-facing content — always with your permission. You'll have the chance to review talking points in advance, request edits, and set any boundaries around what's discussed or published. We'll do everything we can to make sure the final product reflects your voice with clarity and respect.

Why do this? Because it positions you as a thoughtful contributor to the field. Not in a flashy, self-promotional way — but in the way that truly matters: helping others see what's possible. You'll have the option to receive clips to share on your own platforms, and we'll promote it through our own channels as we see fit.

This isn't a sales pitch. It's an invitation to lend your experience to something that's already making a difference — and to be seen for what you know, what you've done, and what you stand for.
